

ART ● CRAFT ● TRAVEL ● INTERIOR DESIGN

AMERICAN Style

SUMMER 2010

SPOTLIGHT

The North Carolina Museum of Art's new 127,000-square-foot building opened April 24.

MUSEUMS UPDATE

OPENINGS The North Carolina Museum of Art in Raleigh reopened to the public on April 24, after a major three-year expansion. The new 127,000-square-foot, single-story building will house the museum's collection, including dozens of new acquisitions. It also contains a new restaurant and retail store.