Wells Fargo Sponsors Free Day at North Carolina Museum of Art's Immersive Special Exhibition

Visitors can see ticketed exhibition You Are Here: Light, Color, and Sound Experiences for no charge Monday, April 23

Raleigh, N.C.—Wells Fargo is sponsoring free entry to ticketed special exhibition You Are Here: Light, Color, and Sound Experiences at the North Carolina Museum of Art on Monday, April 23. Normally closed on Mondays, the Museum's East Building will be open for visitors from noon to 8 pm.

"Wells Fargo recognizes how important it is for the communities we serve to have access to arts and arts education," said Sam Sugg, Raleigh market president for Wells Fargo. "That is why we are excited to offer Wells Fargo Day at the North Carolina Museum of Art as a free opportunity for local residents to experience the vibrant and unique exhibitions the Museum offers."

You Are Here presents pioneering video, light, and sound installations by Bill Viola, James Turrell, Janet Cardiff, Olafur Eliasson, and Ragnar Kjartansson. Works by Rafael Lozano-Hemmer, Jim Campbell, and Theo Eshetu employ experimental technology, custom electronics, and digital media. Mixed-media installations by Anila Quayyum Agha, Soo Sunny Park, Mickalene Thomas, and Heather Gordon use low-tech, nontraditional materials. You Are Here also takes visitors outdoors to explore large-scale video projects by Austria-based artist collective OMA*i* and interactive sculptures by Sam Falls. A stunning permanent collection acquisition by Yayoi Kusama debuted as part of the exhibition as well.

Visitors can learn more about the exhibition at ncartmuseum.org/here and enjoy their free admission Monday, April 23, from noon to 8 pm. Visitors are encouraged to reserve a ticket in advance.

About the North Carolina Museum of Art

The North Carolina Museum of Art's permanent collection spans more than 5,000 years, from ancient Egypt to the present, making the institution one of the premier art museums in the South. The Museum's collection provides educational, aesthetic, intellectual, and cultural experiences for the citizens of North Carolina and beyond. The 164-acre Museum Park showcases the connection between art and nature through site-specific works of environmental art. The Museum offers changing national touring exhibitions, classes, lectures, family activities, films, and concerts.

The Museum opened West Building, home to the permanent collection, in 2010. The North Carolina Museum of Art, Lawrence J. Wheeler, director, is located at 2110 Blue Ridge Road in Raleigh. It is the art museum of the State of North Carolina, Roy Cooper, governor, and an agency of the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources, Susi Hamilton, secretary.
